VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1867. NO. 109.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

[From the National Intelligencer.]

GEN. POPE'S EDICTS CONCERNING THE PRESS.

Among the many tyrannous and oppressive acts of General Pope, not the least discreditable is his partisan effort to build up the Radical party in the South by forbidding civil officers in the Counties from giving their advertisements to any but Radical presses. The effect of this edict is to rob some two hundred Conservative papers of the patronage which justly belongs to them by their circulation and influence, and to bestow it upon some twelve or fifteen Radical sheets, which have only a limited circulation, and derive their support from foreign subsidies. Such interference with the functions of civil officers is, of course, new in this land, and it is to the shame of Gen. Pope, that not even his unworthy co-satraps seem to have thought it a decent resort.—It is a more direct blow at the liberty of the people than has been struck for some time, with one solitary disgraceful exception in Mississippi.

The State laws very properly require civil officers to make publication in papers of their own county, where there is one.—As there is rarely over one paper in a county, this order, in effect, compels sheriffs to send their advertisements out of the county where the sales are to be made, and thus, not being seen by the parties or neighborhood interested, for want of bidders and illegality of sale, property is sacrificed, and creditors fail to receive what is due them. In cases of sales by registers in chancery, they are compelled to disobey both the civil laws and the decrees of the court, with the hazard that these acts may some day, when law is restored, be set aside as null and void.

It is one of the curses of military rule that the parties who administer it are not able to appreciate the grave considerations we have mentioned. Looking to one end only, and at one side of a case, oftentimes ready and violent, impatient of counsel, and irritated to madness by hostile criticism, they proceed by rash and arbitrary edicts to inflict the most serious mischiefs on a community. A step of folly once taken, pride comes in to preclude those corrections which reflection and public opinion suggest to the statesman.

We appeal to the more decent and reflecting men of the Republican party whether measures of tyranny and partisanship such as this order meets their approbation. If the executive office were in its due degree of vigor and authority, we should look to that quarter for a prompt and efficacious remedy. An officer who thus prostitutes his functions to partizan ends should be removed as promptly as if, after the indulgence of a vein rhodomontade, he had by his imbecility brought reproach upon the national arms, and put the very existence of the Government in peril.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

We extract from the New York Tribune the following very accurate explanation of the manner of the observance of "Thanksgiving day" by at least a large portion of the people of New England. The Tribune gives a pretty sketch of the family reunions and rejoicings that take place on that day—such as we have on our own dear Christmas holiday—and proceeds to set forth that this happy feature is not the main purpose of the day, but merely an "incident," and then expounds the grand Puritan intention of its institution from the times of Cromwell to the present day, as follows:

"The gathering of relatives and friends is only an incident of a day dedicated to gratitude. As Cromwell called his Puritan soldiers together after every victory to praise God, who had strengthened their arms, so the old Pilgrim settlers of New England made their descendants assemble every twelve months, after the labors of the field were over and the harvests were gathered, to thank Heaven for its bounty and protection during the past year's strife with the world and the devil. And if ever we have had good cause, amid the pleasant social customs of the day to keep, its religious observance in mind, we have surely had it during the last six or seven years, when we have been fighting a harder fight with the world and the devil than Cromwell or the Pilgrims ever fought, and have been sustained in hours of fear and danger by that divine support which is never lacking to a good cause. The battle for freedom and equal rights has been a long and terrible one; but at every recurrence of Thanksgiving day, from the dark beginning of the war, through all the years of bloodshed and disaster, we have been able to look back with gratitude to signal mercies in the preceding year, and bright gleams of the favor of Heaven breaking through the clouds of sorrow."

This is the most admirable and apposite definition of Puritan thanksgiving—all for this world. The gains—the triumphs—the afflictions of foes—and the beseechings for further triumphs over their enemies, and further afflictions of them, as, being their enemies, so are they the Lord's. And thus they assume that they are fighting the world and the devil! When such prayers are offered up, the devil, so far from being aggrieved and discomfited, is, with his tail snugly ensconsed in his trousers, and his cloven feet hidden in shoes made at Lynn, down among the prayer-makers excelling them in devoutness and fervor!

We will not believe that this sort of praying is universal even in New England.—We know that there are a great many people in that land whose gratitude and piety are of a very different kind. Indeed, the late elections showed that there were very many there who do not live on malice nor riot, even in their prayers, in the desolation of any of their fellow-men! These elections are alluded to by the Tribune in this thanksgiving article as the "trouble" of the day; but taking its sentiments as a sample of the Puritan view of it, as they were pouring out their kind of "gratitude," a simple balance was struck, by which it was discovered that in the long run they "had made progress in the true path," and for this they thanked the Lord!

We rather think the devil got the better on Thanksgiving day among the Tribune's people—taking its own report for a guide. —Richmond Dispatch.

According to the Memphis Avalanche, a party of two hundred armed freedmen, living near Columbus, Mississippi, marched upon that town last week to the music of fife and drum, and demanded bread of the citizens. The invaders were dispersed without any serious disorder by the detachment of United States troops stationed there.

A REMARKABLE CASE.—The English papers, after an unaccountable delay, are calling attention to the case of Col. St. Leger Grenfell, an Englishman who was a conspicuous figure in the Confederate service, and who, after resigning, was arrested in Chicago (we believe) on suspicion of being engaged in a plan to release Confederate prisoners. For this he was tried by a military commission and sentenced to death, but the sentence was afterwards commuted to imprisonment for life, at hard labor, on the Dry Tortugas. The offence for which he was tried, and the tribunal that tried him, are alike unknown to law, and it is very wonderful that the British Government has not interposed in his behalf long since and in a peremptory form.

WM. B. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1867.

REMEMBER

That the Conservative State Convention, heretofore appointed to be held in this City, on the 11th. of December next, has been postponed to a future time. The State Executive Committee will give due notice of the meeting.

THE NEXT STEP.

There never was a more false and unwarranted assumption than that the people of North Carolina, in the late election, have endorsed the Reconstruction acts of Congress, and favored the application, in the reorganization of our State governments, of negro-suffrage and other debasing and vindictive doctrines of Radicalism. We have never, for a moment, been of the number of those, who thought that a man virtually endorsed the policy of Congress by voting on the question of Convention, or in favor of a Convention, or for delegates, but thousands of our people did think so, and this impression had the effect of keeping them away from the polls. Had the full registered vote of the State been brought out, we hazard nothing in the assertion that, on the popular vote, there would have been a majority of at least 20,000 against Radicalism, as well as a decided preponderance of Conservatives in the Convention.

Proceeding upon the baseless and gratuitous idea that the people of North Carolina have expressed their approval, in the recent election, of the Congressional policy, the Radical press and leaders in the State are declaiming, with virtuous indignation, against the appearance of what they term a fresh effort, on the part of "rebels," to defeat the work which has thus ("in a born," to use a vulgarism,) been sanctioned. Well may they tremble. The possession of the spoils, for which their greedy and cormorant souls have hankered, and to attain which is the prime object of their selfish scheming, is not yet so secure as they fancy. The people have not yet voted on the great issue presented to them. They will do so, when the Convention, which is to assemble, has done its work. If it be such as there is too great reason to apprehend it will be, judging from the mongrel elements that are to take it in hand,—if it be such a hotch-potch of diabolic malignity as the Constitution which has been concocted in that crucible of iniquity, the Alabama Convention,—if it be not such as the people of North Carolina think they can live under, with honor, and in peace and security,—then we tell these men that their work cannot stand, if persistent, earnest and unremitting efforts at thorough organization can effect its defeat, and if there is aught of manhood or spirit left among the masses of our people.

And we tell these men, further, that no one is to be frightened from his propriety by the silly and contemptible clamor that such a purpose is evidence of "contumacy." The Reconstruction Acts, themselves, allow the people interested an "election" in the matter of ratifying or rejecting the Constitutions that may be submitted to them. It is at that point, that the people will make their stand. On that line they will fight it out, at the ballot-box.

We will not prejudge the work of the Convention, further than to express our conviction that nothing good can come out of it. You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. You cannot easily eliminate anything that is just, or reasonable, or magnanimous, out of a compound of bad passions, and levelling and vindictive impulses. You cannot expect anything from Radicalism that is not low, sinister, and destructive. It must be judged here, in advance of its actual demonstrations, by its spirit and fruits elsewhere. In the language of the American essayist, Emerson, as quoted by the Hon. Reverdy Johnson: "It is destructive and aimless,—it is not loving,—but is destructive only out of hatred and selfishness."

In view of all this, and without, as we say, prejudging the work of the Convention, but in the exercise of a wholesome and necessary precaution, it behooves all lovers of the State, all friends of law and order and civil liberty, to consult for the worst, and to prepare for the last means of preservation and self-defence that are left us. Those means are provided for in the Reconstruction Acts. The ballot-box is our remedy. We must begin at once, thoroughly, actively, earnestly, to organize, in order to make it effective, should it become necessary so to do.

MODE OF THE BEAUTIES OF RADICALISM.—An ordinance was introduced in the Alabama Convention, (so-called,) a few days since, declaring void all marriages between whites and freedmen, and requiring legislation to prevent such marriages under severe penalties. This proved quite a bombshell in the miscegenation camp. The extreme Radicals and the negro delegates violently opposed it, as antagonistic to the spirit of the Civil Right's bill, and its further consideration was deferred. It is very evident that social equality is the next card of ultra-Radicalism. Those who have sown the wind will ere long be foremost in the effort to put down the whirlwind,—at least such of them as are not prepared to accept the theory as entirely applicable to themselves. The sooner such men take Coffee to their hearth-stones the better.

THE VIRGINIA Reconstruction Convention (so-called) meets in Richmond to day.

A colored convention is holding in Lexington, Ky., for the purpose of petitioning for the privileges granted to darkies in other States.

THE POLICY OF OUR PLANTERS.

The Weldon News learns that many of the planters of that section intend to abandon, the next year, any attempt at large farming operations. We judge that such a determination will be general throughout the South.

The war closed, leaving the great bulk of the Southern planters largely in debt. The freedom of the blacks destroyed the entire available wealth of the South. Yet, relying upon the production of cotton as almost the only resource left to give employment to the blacks, to support their families, to recuperate the country and get out of debt, our planters went into cotton with a rush, to the neglect of almost everything else.—This required, for the purchase of provisions, implements and fertilizers, an immense addition to the already large indebtedness of the planters. The unpropitious seasons and the inefficiency and high price of labor, together with the reduction of the price of cotton, have left the Southern planter, as a general rule, in a worse condition, pecuniarily, than he was at the close of the war.—We are inclined to think that Southern indebtedness is greater and more harrassing than it has ever been.

If so, it cannot be doubted that the true policy of the Southern people, at the close of the war, was to have sold out the cotton remaining on hand, and to have ceased, at once, its cultivation as a market commodity, and devoted themselves entirely to the production of bread stuffs, provisions, &c., the reduction or division of their lands into smaller tenantries, and a general system of improvement of the lands by the agency of rest, shifting and the cheaper modes of fertilizing, and the employment of improved implements of husbandry.

If the Southern planters had adopted a close system of economy, such as the war had taught them, buying only what was absolutely necessary; had abandoned cotton, except for home consumption; and adopted the above system of first securing bread and meat, their condition would have been infinitely better. The Northern ideas which prevailed in regard to cotton, would have brought capital and labor into the country to produce it; our lands, at least a portion of them, might have been sold at reasonable rates, and the great burden of testing the possibility and the profitableness of making cotton with hired labor would have been turned over into other hands, who would no doubt have been profited by their experience in more ways than one. Is it too late for the Southern planter to stop experimenting on the new system with cotton? How is Southern labor to be employed, if cotton is abandoned? Or how are debts to be paid, or the country to be restored to any thing like its former prosperity? These are questions difficult to be answered.

RADICAL EMISSARIES.—It is very evident that the quiet and unoffending white people of the South are bearing their misfortunes, and the injustice done them, too submissively for the comfort of ultra Radicals. They are now without a sensational rumor with which to stir the Northern pulse. They would be glad to provoke violent speeches and acts, on the part of the white people of the South. Riots, acts of violence or injustice towards the negroes, they are specially anxious to produce, so as to excite the North adversely to us.

We are under the impression that numbers of Northern Radicals, bold men, shrewd, yet offensive in their deportment, are traversing the South, professedly friendly, intimating that Northern men are disposed to come South to invest capital, but at the same time expressing doubts of the loyalty of our people. They aim to attract crowds at Hotels and other places by loud talking, and by using insulting remarks to provoke retaliation, out of which to make capital.

We hope that Southern gentlemen will be on the alert and will avoid all collision with them. Northern gentlemen, whose aims are legitimate and proper, can easily be discerned from the class of men alluded to above. Such merit courteous and polite attention, and will be sure to receive it where they are known. But braggart or offensive Radicals, who come South to irritate and disturb our quiet, we should avoid. Instead of adding fuel to the fires which burn in their bosoms, leave them to freeze, by avoiding all unnecessary contest with them.

WE CALL attention to the admirable order of Gen. Hancock, on assuming command in the Fifth Military District, which will be found in another column. The military reception which was in preparation for him was abandoned, by his own order, and he reached New Orleans in citizen's dress, quietly and unostentatiously.

The Columbus (Ga.) Sun calls attention to the fact that one of the delegates to Pope's Convention had a hand in the assassination conspiracy. It says: "His name is Thomas Gilbert, and he is a delegate elect from this District to Pope's Convention. He resides in the County of Chattahoochee, and the proof is strong and conclusive against him. The facts are these: At a meeting of the citizens of Chattahoochee County, before Abraham Lincoln had taken the Presidential chair, and previous to the secession of the State of Georgia, he, Gilbert, submitted to the said meeting a proposition in writing, offering to arm and equip at his own expense one hundred men, to proceed to Washington City and to kill Abraham Lincoln. He supported his proposition in a violent harangue, charging his more moderate and humane neighbors with a want of patriotism and courage. These facts will be fully attested by some of the most prominent and respectable citizens of the County of Chattahoochee."

THE NEGRO IN NEW YORK.—We have Horace Greely's testimony to the fact that a colored native of New York city, who owns his own house, earns an honest livelihood, and the respected member of a Christian Church, is not allowed to drive his own horse and cart, and do thereby the carting of such mechanics as may choose to employ him. "A black man," says the Tribune, "who should try to earn a living by driving his own coach and carrying passengers in it would be first beaten to a jelly for his impudence, and then hauled before a magistrate for violating a city ordinance."

SCOTCH IMMIGRATION.—The Wilmington Star announces that twenty seven Highland Scotch immigrants, men, women and children, arrived in that City from New York, last week, en route to Robeson county, where they are to settle.

The Star very justly observes that we could draw our re-inforcements from no better country than Scotland. We have already in the population of this State a large infusion of the Caledonian element—principally in the counties of Cumberland, Harnett, Moore, Robeson, Montgomery and Richmond,—and in other sections the intermixture of that element with the Irish is to be traced in a large class of our citizens.

The first Scotch settlement proper within the limits of our State was in the year 1749, at Cross Creek, in Cumberland County, by five or six hundred colonists. In 1775, the chivalric and beautiful Flora McDonald, so romantically connected with the escape of Charles Edward from the English, and who is said to have united the bravery of the male sex with the gentleness of her own, settled at Fayetteville, in company with her husband and a number of sympathizers and friends. From these two stocks have mainly sprung the people who inhabit the counties of the Cape Fear and Pedee regions of the State, and who compose one of the most intelligent and thrifty portions of our population. The most of them inherit the sturdy and sterling qualities of the old Cameronians and Covenanters, without their bigotry and intolerance. Loyal, industrious, shrewd, correct, and law-abiding, they have enviably illustrated their pedigree, and contributed no mean share to the reputation of the State for honesty and conservatism.

We confess to a decided penchant for the Scotch character, as well as an admiration of Scotland's annals. Her historic battlefields are redolent of valor and patriotism, and in the paths alike of philosophy, science, and light literature, she has produced men of large views, of bold and original speculation, of subtle intellectual power and of cultivated genius. These men have been but representatives of the qualities in the masses that made and fostered them—of that element which favored their development and greatness. We repeat that we shall be glad to see much more of the same element transferred to our midst. We shall give it a hearty welcome. Come on, then, ye men from the land of the "mountain and the mist."

No portion of the South presents such physical advantages for the encouragement of immigration as North Carolina. But we cannot reasonably expect much of it, we fear, under the evils of Radical rule, present and prospective. Emigrants, in any numbers, are not attracted to a section of country, which is now held in the grasp of military power, and which promises to be turned over to negro rule, if the party in power shall carry out its schemes.

GEN. HANCOCK'S ORDER ASSUMING COMMAND, &c.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—The troops drawn up on the levee yesterday to receive General Hancock were withdrawn, on an order from him telegraphed from Baton Rouge. Gen. H's. order assuming command is as follows:

1. In accordance with Order No 8, Headquarters of the Army, Washington, August 17th, Major General W. S. Hancock hereby assumes command of the Fifth Military District.

2. The General commanding is gratified to learn that peace and quiet reign in this department. It will be his purpose to preserve this condition of things. As a means to this great end, he regards the maintenance of the civil authorities, and the faithful execution of the laws, as the most efficient under existing circumstances. In war it is indispensable to repel force by force, and overthrow and destroy opposition to lawful authority, but when insurrectionary force has been overthrown and peace established, and the civil authorities willing to perform their duties, the military power should cease to lead, and the civil administration resume its natural and rightful dominion.

Solemnly impressed with these views, the General announces that the great principles of American liberty still are the lawful inheritance of this people and ever should be. Right of trial by jury, the habeas corpus, liberty of the press, freedom of speech and the natural right of persons and of property, must be preserved. Free institutions, while they are essential to the happiness and prosperity of the people, always furnish the strongest inducements to peace and order. Crimes and offences committed in this district must be referred to the regular civil authorities, and those tribunals will be supported in their lawful jurisdiction.

Should there be violations of existing laws which are not enquired into by the civil authorities, or should failures in the administration of justice by the courts be complained of, the cases will be reported to these headquarters, where such orders may be made as may be deemed necessary.

While the General thus indicates his purpose to respect the liberties of the people, he wishes all to understand that armed insurrections or forcible resistance to the law will be instantly suppressed.

By command of Maj. Gen. W. S. Hancock.
W. G. MITCHELL, A. A. G.

General Hancock's order infuses new life into the almost despairing friends of law and order.

RADICAL RUIN.—The Belfast (Maine) Journal thus forcibly portrays the ruin of business interests in Maine by Radical legislation:

"In fifteen minutes walk from our office we can visit four or five ship yards that a few years ago turned out their half dozen ships yearly. Now they are deserted—not a solitary keel lies along their idle ways.—The ship wrights lounge along the streets.—A blight has fallen upon this industry, and the whole coast is desolate. Radical policy has taxed the ship building of Maine to death for means to oppress and degrade the South. It makes the South a desert, that can no longer furnish exports for Maine ships to carry, even if Maine were able to build ships. Its vampyre fangs bleed both extremities."

NEGRO GOVERNMENT.—Since Jamaica was given up to negro rule its march has been rapid from bad to worse, until to-day one of the finest, and formerly one of the most productive, of all the West India groups lies but a wreck in negro hands. All this has taken place in thirty four years, notwithstanding the efforts of the English Government to prevent it. And how of Liberia? Large sums of money, Christian and missionary effort unlimited, have all been used to little advantage. Liberia is but a mammoth negro poor house.

STATE ITEMS.

—The Conference of the M. E. Church, South, was still in session at Wilmington, at latest accounts. We compile from the Journal:

"On Friday Rev. Mr. Hardie, of the Presbyterian Church, and Agent in North Carolina for the American Bible Society, was introduced to the Conference, and welcomed in his official capacity and invited to address the body in behalf of the institution he represented. In introducing this gentleman to the Convention, the Bishop made some complimentary and graceful remarks, at the same time trusting that the Conference would respond practically to any request the gentleman should make.

Rev. Mr. Hardie, being thus invited, addressed the Conference in regard to the work he was engaged in. He alluded with feeling to the welcome he had always met with from this Conference and the individual members, and also the kindness he had been the recipient of from other bodies and denominations in the State. He stated that the object of the Society which he represented was solely and entirely the publication of the Word of God. He reported the work as growing in the hearts of the people, and solicited contributions in its behalf from the Conference. The gentleman then made some very interesting remarks regarding his labors in this State, during which it was stated that over 30,000 copies of the Bible had been distributed by the American Bible Society within our borders."

Dr. Craven's report on the condition of Trinity College represents that excellent Institution as reasonably successful in all its departments. The Theological Department, which the Conference, at its last session, advocated so zealously, and for which it so handsomely provided, has been a success far beyond the expectation of the most sanguine friends. Dr. Craven says:

"Fifteen young men are now in that department; they attend to their studies and duties zealously, and are making rapid progress generally.

The department is pre-eminently popular both in itself and in its professor. Dr. Doub has proved to be not only a thoroughly competent, but a very successful, teacher. He is doing a good work and doing it well. He is not only personally popular with the students, but his teaching is successful every way, and will be felt by the whole country in the days to come.

The Trustees most earnestly desire the Conference to sustain Dr. Doub at the College, feeling assured that it is a good arrangement, and will be a blessing to the Church."

—Hon. Z. B. Vance is in Norfolk. He was to address, by urgent invitation, a Conservative mass meeting in that City, last evening.

—Fresh pork is selling in Wilmington at nine cents per pound.

—Weldon is to be lighted by gas. Col. Fremont, of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, is the benefactor, through whose energy the thing is to be done.

—Rev. Jno. S. Long lectured in Wilmington, on Thursday night, on the "Ethics of History." A very large audience were assembled to hear him, and the papers speak in high terms of the gifted orator's effort.

—Anderson Marshettur, the negro man sentenced to be hung for the killing of his wife, was executed at Halifax, on Friday last. He expressed the wish to be buried by the side of his wife, and, when asked why, replied, "Because he had loved her."

—A colored man, by the name of Jack Koonce, who voted the Conservative ticket in Onslow, came near losing his life for his independence and exercise of freedom. He was pursued and hooted at by a crowd of demoniac negroes. The white citizens of the county have taken steps to give him fifty acres of land, a good house, a horse and a year's provisions.

—The Norfolk Day Book gives Dr. Lawrence and "Rosadalis" the following "first rate notice":

"Such is the demand for this popular and efficient remedy that Dr. Lawrence is about to give up the Drug business at Wilson, N. C., and devote his entire energy and time to its manufacture. We are informed that his cash orders, for single bottles of the Rosadalis, at that one depot, amount to over two hundred dollars a day, and we know the fact that Capt. Baker, who has charge of the Norfolk depot, is unable to keep a constant supply. Dr. Lawrence has pursued the wise policy of liberally advertising his medicine, and the money thus spent has returned to him ten fold. This should prove a valuable lesson to business men, and they should emulate the example of Dr. Lawrence if they desire to make fortunes."

—Some twenty-five citizens of this County, (says the Statesville American,) who had emigrated and settled in Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, &c., last fall, have returned to the county, perfectly satisfied with their old homes in the Old North State. They report that others will return, and that there are yet others who would come back, if they were able, but, having spent all to remove, are now without means. These returned emigrants were of our best population, and we welcome them back.

THE ELECTION IN HARTFORD, CONN.—THE DEMOCRATS CARRY IT BY THREE HUNDRED MAJORITY.—Last week the annual town election in Hartford took place. Last fall the Radicals carried the town by a majority of about 170, though the vote was small, the total being only about 3,900. On Monday the Democrats elected their entire ticket by an average majority of over 300, on an aggregate vote of 4,650.

There is an engine on the Mississippi Central Railroad which was purchased before the war, and named "W. Booth," in honor of a gentleman of that name who was, many years ago, Sheriff of Carroll County, Miss. An order was issued by the military to stop the road from running it, we understand, on the ground that it was named in honor of Wilkes Booth, which, upon explanations, has been rescinded. The lie has gone North, however, in the interests of the Radical party, as showing the continued wickedness and audacity of the rebels.

General Grant has just issued another important order from the War Office, reducing all the regiments of infantry to the minimum allowed by law, reducing the general recruiting service by breaking up all excepting four principal rendezvous to each arm—cavalry and infantry—and by mustering out all volunteer officers excepting the commissioner and disbursing officer of the Freedmen's Bureau.

A Houston newsboy died of yellow fever on the 2d. His last words were: "Here's your Daily Telegraph."

LETTER FROM HARNETT.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The election is over, and the Africans and their allies are triumphant. So large a number of our voters were disqualified, that this result was not wholly unexpected; though it was not anticipated that so many of our citizens would suffer the Red String to be tied about their throats by the shallow tools or designing knaves who are doing Corporal duty for the Catalines of North Carolina. Nor was it believed that so many had been beguiled into that League, which, under the false name of Union, is a snare set by the only faction in this State, and in all this nation, who interpose barriers to a complete Union. The Conservatives found much difficulty in securing a candidate, and did so only when it was too late; for none seemed ambitious to shine in the proposed "solemn farce."

All kinds of humbuggery have been used here, as, doubtless, elsewhere, to get the unsuspecting into the Leagues. "Come in," they were told, "if you wish to save your land;" "come in and vote down the rebels, or we will have another war," and all such puny stuff. Professing and preaching equality with the negro (of which fact they were of course the best judges) it was an easy job to identify him "wid de great 'publican party.

We see, from the Standard, that the Tetrarch of the Leaguers in this State, and Joseph, are much cheered by the result in Harnett. Wonder if he begins to feel any hope of climbing up into that chair again, into which he accidentally crawled once, and from which the voice of the people blew him as an hurricane, to give place to honest Jonathan? Wonder if he does? if so, wonder if he feels popular when he takes a retrospect of his two experiments before the people of North Carolina? Has he forgotten how far Zebulon distanced him?—At any rate, if he is not already convinced, let him rub his pasterns again, to be distanced by some true Carolina nag.

We see, also, that, in a recent issue, he is again cutting at sheriff Grady with his harmless stiletto, and for what? Why, of course, for doing his duty, and obeying the orders of that government of which the Holdens profess, of late, to be the mud-sills and pillars. Sheriff Grady and his friends have not heretofore noticed these attacks, as they came from a creature who, as is well known, has long been in the habit of spitting nothing but venom. But as some stranger might be deceived by these thrusts, this is written to vindicate sheriff Grady from all censure.

The facts are briefly these:

Some of Holden's brother Leaguers (black) from Holly Springs were in the habit of visiting a League in this county, marching down to martial music, with regalia and flag, counter-marching in front of houses, and making such demonstrations as to alarm some of the citizens. When joined with the League in this county, they united in similar parades, and, at least on two occasions, were marched, double quicked and drilled. They also made speeches encouraging disorder and threatened white men, who had colored children bound to them. This was done by the Holly Spring crowd, (who live near the light and under the wings of the Standard) without regard to the fact that these children were bound by Federal authority.

These proceedings were reported to the Commandant at Fayetteville, (not by our sheriff, who ordered our sheriff to investigate, and, if he should find that any body of men had associated themselves for the purpose of military instruction or had music, arms, dress, or accoutrements that pertain to a military organization, to disband them.

This he executed; took their drum and told them they could hold meetings, but must not drill, and read them his orders. And this is his offence, and, for this, is sheriff Grady hawked at by him who vomits his gall and spume upon such honorable and honored names as Worth, Vance, Graham, Ruffin and Brown, and whose India Rubber conscience is eased by the unblushing excuse that it is done "for party purposes."

The Standard lauds the speech of J. F. Taylor, at Lillington, and says "we understand sheriff Grady, who has been trying to break up the Leagues, got justice at the hands of the speaker." The writer heard that speech from Mr. Taylor, who is said to be a striker in the Holden shop, and who occasionally strikes off to other places to find himself chawed up and devoured as he was by Dr. Buchanan, at Buckhorn, and by Col. McNeill, at Lillington. We were not present when the Doctor drew his scalpel, or rather his scalping knife and tomahawk, upon him, but understand the dissection was complete, insomuch that the most able Naturalist would have been at loss in saying to what race the remains of the creature belonged.

In reply to his strictures on sheriff Grady, the sheriff told him that he had authority for what he had done. Then Fontleroy asked to see the order; the sheriff drew it from his pocket and read it. Thus finding his blunderbuss spiked, he launched off by telling the Leagues that they had a right to march, use their banners and music, despite of the sheriff or Gen. Canby or any body else. He did not tell them they had a right to drill, but it is well known that this has been openly encouraged by some of the League orators—for instance, by Fontleroy's brother Leaguer from Moore, Jordan Barrett.

Next he rejoiced that the South had been badly whipped and proved his calibre and veracity by charging that Gen. Lee had ordered 36 deserters to be hung with a grape vine without trial. On being asked if he vouched for the fact, he said he did; that Wesly Counsel, of Chatham, had informed him of the fact and authorized him to use his name. At this slander of the veteran Hero, whom even the enemy held in respect, much indignation was manifested in the crowd.

When he had done, Col. McNeill asked to be heard for a few moments and showed how Fontleroy had changed since he used to be so rejoiced at Confederate successes and in his zeal had slipped through the blockade to get supplies for the Confederacy. The Colonel also denied the charge against Gen. Lee and told the crowd that Font did not believe it himself. The place was getting too warm for Font, and he left for Raleigh whilst the Colonel was finishing him. It is reported that Font received $50 from the League for this speech; if so, we venture to say it was the highest price ever paid for gas between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

JUSTITIA.

"OUR MULE AND LAND!"—The day the polls opened in Savannah, Ga., a delegation of one hundred and twenty negroes came in from the Ogeechee river, marching in military order, and each man provisioned with a joint or two of sugar cane and some sweet potatoes. They entered the square where the voting was done, and, after casting their ballots, camped out for the rest of the day, the next day, and the next, waiting till they should receive a mule apiece and a deed conveying to each forty acres of land. They finally fell back, their commissaries having been exhausted.

The Tract of Land on which the late Wm. F. Collins resided, at the time of his death, situated in Warren County, on the Williamsboro' Road, two (2) miles from Ridgeway Depot, on the R & G. R. R., and adjoining the lands of Jno. E. Jones, B. M. Collins and others, containing Valuable Plantation for Sale.

ON FRIDAY, THE 6TH DAY OF DECEMBER, I will offer at public sale that Valuable Plantation on which Col. J. W. Steele resides; lying in Alamance County, two and a-half miles Southwest from Mebaneville Depot.

The location is very desirable, being convenient to Col. Bingham's School, also to Dr. Wilson's School, and within half a mile of Hawfield Church.

The buildings are pleasantly located—the dwelling house has six rooms, four below, with wide and airy passage, and two above, and a fireplace in every room. There is an excellent well of water in the yard, near the house and kitchen, also two kitchens, smoke house, an office with two rooms, and, in fact, all the conveniences desired.

The plantation contains 467 acres, about 200, or more, of which is well timbered with original growth of oak and hickory, and WELL WATERED.

It was originally in two tracts, and there are two separate sets of buildings, one on each plantation, half a mile apart, and if desired they will be sold separately.

A credit of 6 and 12 months will be given.

Sale on the premises. Conveyance at Mebaneville.

THE THESPIANS.—The second appearance of the Thespians, last evening, was greeted by a very large and brilliant audience, who were highly delighted with the representation. In all respects, it was even a more decided success than the first entertainment.—Everything passed off pleasantly, and the criticisms upon the performances of the gentlemen of the Association, without exception, were complimentary in the highest degree.

MASONIC.—The Annual Convocation of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina assembled in this City last evening. A large number of gentlemen from various sections of the State are in attendance.

PERSONAL.—Our City is still crowded with strangers, in attendance either upon the Federal Court, or the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the State. Among other gentlemen in the City, we observe Gen. R. B. Vance, of Asheville, Col. W. M. Cocke, of the same place, Hon. W. N. H. Smith, Hon. J. G. Ramsay, Hon. R. P. Dick, Col. D. M. Carter, Col. Wm. A. Jenkins, Col. Cilley and James Banks, Esq.

THE WEATHER for the past two days has been unusually cold for the season, threatening snow. Ice has formed abundantly, but of no great thickness.

CHILD KILLED BY A RAT.—About two weeks ago an infant in this city was attacked and bitten in the night by a rat. When the child, which was about two months old, received the wound, it screamed, and awoke the parents, who discovered the wound near the temple. It did not bleed, but began to swell, and finally the little sufferer was attacked with erysipelas, and then died, in spite of the utmost exertions of the physicians. We forbear to mention names, in deference to the feelings of the afflicted family, who are steeped in grief at the suffering and death of the dear little babe.

The infant was asleep in a cradle at the time of the attack, and the rat, with which the House, and probably the neighborhood, abounds, is supposed to have been one of the large rodent mammals peculiar to all seaport cities.—Norfolk Day Book.

The Lower House of the Tennessee Legislature favors the impeachment of the President, and requests its representatives in Congress to vote for it.

The Buffalo Commercial (Republican) characterizes the report of the majority of the Judiciary Committee as a "soft impeachment."

GEN. LEE'S VISIT TO PETERSBURG.—The visit of Gen. Robert E. Lee to this city on Thursday, to attend the nuptials of his son, was rendered a perfect ovation by the greetings of the citizens. Upon the arrival of the train at Pocahontas Bridge, Childress' excellent band, which volunteered for the occasion, sounded the first note of welcome with the beautiful "Marsellaise Hymn."—The band then got on the train, and, on the arrival at Jarratt's Hotel, struck up again, but the music was almost drowned by the buzzas of the immense crowd assembled there. The General no sooner entered the open carriage in waiting, than "three times three" were given, hats and handkerchiefs were waved aloft, and every expression of pride and delight at the appearance in our midst of one who has so signally endeared himself to the Southern people, was manifested by the throng. The balconies and windows of the hotel were filled with ladies, and the whole area in front was alive with people. In response to their manifestations, the General rose in his carriage, lifted his hat from his head, and bowed to the assemblage. He was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Wm. H. Mahone, whose guest he was. In the meantime the band continued to perform popular and soul stirring airs, and as the carriage moved away the shouts of the people mingled with the strains of music and followed him until it was out of sight.

One little unpleasant episode occurred during the demonstration at the depot. A person whose name is unknown expressed his sentiments by uttering a groan, and as he did so Mr. Benjamin Butts, who was standing near, knocked him down. He was about to punish him further when the unknown person drew a knife, stabbed Mr. Butts in the hand, and then scrambling over upon all fours, crawled into the midst of the crowd and disappeared undetected. We suppose the "groaner" considers it political sacrilege for a disarmed people to express gratification upon meeting a Confederate General. Happily such an intolerant spirit does not animate the true men of the North; and when we remember how Gen. Lee was huzzaed by the federal soldiers in Richmond after the surrender, and how many of them sought the privilege of testifying their appreciation of his virtues by grasping his hand, the spiteful groan of this unknown individual assumes the lowest place among things mean and contemptible.—Petersburg Express.

Monday Evening Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, M.

The Comptroller of the Treasury's report shows that ten National Banks have failed, since their organization. Their aggregate capital was $1,870,000. Every failure is traceable to dishonest or incompetent officers.

The President's Message contains 12,000 words.

Both the President and Secretary of the Treasury are in favor of an early resumption of specie payment.

The President's friends say his Message will reiterate his reconstruction views. The entire Message is represented as calm, dignified, patriotic and kindly in tone towards the South and argues for an early restoration on a Constitutional basis.

Tuesday Morning Dispatches.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—P. M.

Senate.—A memorial from the Alabama Convention for the repeal of the Cotton Tax, was referred.

Resolutions of the Tennessee Legislature, asking the repeal of the Cotton and Tobacco Tax, was presented.

At twelve o'clock the commencement of the new session was announced.

A Committee was appointed to inform the President that a resolution had been offered, asking the Secretary of the Treasury under what law Edward Cooper occupied the position of Assistant Secretary.

House.—Mr. Wilson, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, made a personal explanation in defence of Mr. Churchill, concluding that the majority cannot, and do not attribute his change of opinion to improper motives or pecuniary considerations.

The Judiciary Committee was instructed to enquire whether the House had the right to accept or reject the terms of a treaty like that requiring Russian America. Various petitions, resolutions &c., requesting the repeal of the cotton tax, were referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Arnell, of Tennessee, denied giving aid and comfort to the rebellion.

The Post office Committee, was directed to enquire into the expediency of Rail Road Companies carrying letters, referring to their own business, out side of the mails.

A Resolution was adopted ordering the Committee on elections, to peruse the investigation of the case of Wm A. Barnum, charged with securing his election by bribery.

At twelve o'clock the beginning of the second session was proclaimed. One hundred and forty-six members being present.

A Committee was appointed to wait on the President, who subsequently reported that the President would communicate his message at noon to-morrow.

The Election Committee reported favorably on Golladay from Kentucky. The consideration of the report was postponed to Wednesday.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2,—P. M.

A half dozen financial bills have been presented.

The action on Golladay's right to a seat, indicates that the Kentuckians will be excluded till after the vote on impeachment.

It is generally understood that Commissioner of Revenue, Rollins, will soon resign.

The Reconstruction Committee has had a meeting at Thad. Stevens's room. A majority holds that further legislation is necessary before reconstruction can be completed.

The Judges of the Supreme Court, led by Chase, visited the President to-day.

The President will nominate S. S. Cox to the Austrian Ministry, vice Grosvy, declined.

Gen. Ord, in his report, concludes that in a majority of the Counties of his District, there are very few men who can take the test oath and those are not disposed to defy public opinion by accepting office unless supported by military force afterwards. The will of the colored men may be in favor of supporting loyal office-holders, but their intelligence is not now sufficient to entitle them to combine for the execution of their will. All their combinations are now conducted by white men under the protection of the military. If the military is withdrawn, the white men now controlling them would withdraw with it and some of the Southern people now exasperated at what they deem the freedmen's presumption, would not be very gentle towards them. So that the presence of a larger military force will be required for some time to maintain the freedmen in the right of suffrage.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, Dec. 2, P. M.

The volunteer officers in Virginia, on Bureau duty, who will be mustered out on January 1st, under General Grant's order, are two Colonels, two Lt. Colonels, five Majors, fourteen Captains, ten first Lieutenants and fifteen second Lieutenants.

The Republicans held a caucus to-night. Judge Underwood's name is prominently mentioned for the Chairmanship of the Convention.

ALABAMA CONVENTION

MONTGOMERY, Dec. 2, P. M.

The Convention adopted a resolution that when it adjourns, it be subject to the call of E. W. Peck, President, or the Military Commander of this State or District; but if not re-convened within a year, to stand adjourned sine die.

A resolution to adjourn on the 4th instant was rejected.

The oaths of office, as finally adopted, requires officers to swear, that they are not disfranchised by the Constitution or laws of the United States, that they will support the Constitution and laws of the State, and of the United States and the Union of the States.

ORDER REVOKED.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2, P. M.

HAS PAID ANOTHER LOSS IN THIS DEPARTMENT ON THE 7TH NOV., 1867, to the widow of the late Castine Doscher, of Wilmington, N. C. Policy No. 29,650, for $5,000.
This Company has done more in the last two years for the citizens of the State than any other Company.

J. E. Weeks, Elizabeth City,	5,000

S. B. Turnage, Kinston,	10,000
J. F. Sanders, Smithfield,	5,000

That which has made this Company such a favorite and so popular, is the low rate and prompt payment of all demands.

PETER NEY.—ONCE MORE.—Since the publication of our article on this strange character, we have conversed with a gentleman who went to school to Ney, in Mecklenburg county, Virginia. He says he went from that county to North Carolina, and he never heard any thing concerning him, until he heard us speaking about his peculiarities. If Ney never taught school in this State until subsequent to his teaching in Virginia, then it must have been about 1825 when he first came to N. C., as our informant can not be more than fifty-two or three years of age, and he went to him when a small boy. He remembers well his commanding appearance, and flashing eye. On Saturdays, Ney always stayed at the Academy, and many of the boys would spend some of their playtime with him, attracted by his pleasing adventures, which he was fond of rehearsing. Ney always told them, that he was the genuine Marshal of the Empire.—Warrenton Indicator.

SPITE AGAINST THE GALLANT DEAD.—General Ord is revealing himself rapidly.—Having imprisoned an editor for personal remarks, he has now forbidden the erection of a monument over the grave of a gallant Confederate. Robert A. Smith, a young Scotsman, resided in Jackson, Mississippi, at the beginning of the war. When the "Jackson Rifles" company was formed, he was elected Captain, and proceeded with it to Pensacola. Soon after its arrival there its Colonel died, and Captain Smith, though the youngest Captain in the regiment, (Tenth Mississippi,) was chosen his successor. His regiment went with Bragg to Tennessee, and in one of the battles there, Colonel Smith was killed while gallantly leading his men. His brother James, who had formerly resided in Jackson, but had returned to Scotland, determined, after the war to place a plain and neat memorial of affection over the honored grave of his brother, who was sleeping the sleep of death in a far off land. This memorial, in the shape of a small marble monument, had arrived, and the sorrowing friends of the deceased were about to place it over the grave, when they were arrested in their labors of love by the order of General Ord. This is an act of wanton tyranny, and cannot be justified on any ground whatever.

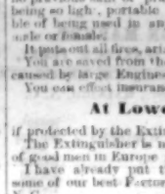
THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine



IS OFFERED TO THE Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which being kept charged and standing in your House Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench.

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause.

You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.

Send for a Circular.
